FROM THE bethel town office

The Town Office will be closed Monday, Sept. 5, in observance of Labor Day. Regular hours will resume at 8 a. m. Tuesday, Sept. 6. Municipal Facilities Committee members Arlan Jodrey, Ronald Stevens, Bob Davis, Rollie Glines, Neil Merrill and Clark Bartlett met for the first time, Tuesday, Aug. 30, with architects George Terrien and Bob Howe to begin planning the renovation and overhaul of the Cole Block. Readers will recall that March Town Meeting voters authorized the expenditure of $1,500 for Cole Block architectural services and the Selectmen at the Aug. 15 meeting, selected the firm of Terrien Associates, Portland, for this purpose. Discussions at the meeting focussed on planned uses (commercial, town offices, etc.) for the building's ground floor. The Manager presented for joint consideration drawings prepared in the late 1970's showing Town Office layouts and functional needs.

Greenwood City

— Mrs. Collita Morgan, Corres. —

There has been fun as well as sadness in the days of this week; all have been busy, I have prepared and frozen vegetables, made three kinds of pickles and made apple pies for the freezer.

One afternoon three cousins invited me for a ride and a picnic. We went through Grafton Notch, Enrol and the 10 Mile Woods to Berlin. It was so pretty along the river where we stopped for a picnic.

We have been grocery shopping and to the library. I attended the funeral of a cousin which was the sad part of the week.

On Thursday eight teachers and one guest met at Lettie Brooks' farm where she and I had prepared a New England boiled dinner. That was really a fun time.

On Saturday Rena Curtis and I attended the wedding of a niece at South Paris. She was surely a pretty bride.

Then of course the lawns needed a "hair" cut so I did that as a final task of the week.

Clyde was hard at work harvesting his garden, picking plums, pears, and apples. So go the days! At the Hayes Homestead things have been quiet this week, few callers.

Eva Schools and mother, Mrs. Ladd called to see me recently. A nice surprise.

There was an accident at the farm resulting in the death of a nice cow. In some way she fell into that small brook which runs through the field. What really happened we'll never know.

Madge Bland and Sylvia Cummings, sisters, came to see their cousins, Fay Holt and Bernard. All had a nice visit.

On Saturday, Leonas and Fay Holt had a nice ride to Dexter to see their son David and his wife, Sally, as well as little Mary Fay. Dale and Marcia Mills of Shapleigh had dinner with us on Saturday.

As I walked to the farm on Friday I noticed a small gathering of flickers. When this happens they discuss their air routes south and it catches me by surprise that summer is waning and autumn is just over the hill or across the valley. Usually the flickers are here until mid September.

The barn swallows have already held a conference on our telephone wires and decided it's time to leave. We see very few now.

As we sat on the lawn one evening we decided it's the light and shadows instead of the weather that tell the birds it's moving time.

At the call of a katydid I was reminded of the old saying, Six weeks from the first katydid to the first frost. Oh, dear, can it be so soon?

Schools opening this week? Can it be that I'm getting old? My memory turns back and strays to my teaching days at this time in the one room school house.

The school-room wasn't designed to make noisy the road to learning. Things did improve from the wood burning stove to an oil burner, then to floor heat over my 42 years there. Ages of pupils ranged from a precocious five to fourteen.

The midmorning and midafternoon recesses, and the lunch hour were high spots of the day. Those afforded just time enough for games such as Prisoner's Base, Way Over and others. Unforgettable, too, was the long walk home for many. Some walked through winter rain and snow or muddy roads as did I. In winter, darkness fell before or shortly after reaching home.

Maybe these were some of the reasons why the products of the one room country schoolhouse were so successful. Education came the hard way; you didn't take it lightly, and it stuck with you.

I have many thoughts of my pupils at this time of year and as I write at my desk I look up to my plaque that has the names of all my pupils through the years 1926-1983 in the Greenwood City School.

A new adventure starts today; A whole new world unfolds. As five-year-olds go off to school. Not knowing what it holds. Exciting things help eager minds to learn to count and read; It can't be done in just one day, But this day sows the seed. Soon strangers turn into good friends. And fears into delights; First day at school begins the climb. That leads to unknown heights. Emma Skull Grove

Abbott's Anchorage. The Greens played good ball this year entering the play-offs undefeated and in the number one position. A great deal of credit goes to their coaches, Janice Harrington and Rose Sumner.

Monday, Ray Harrington drove Tom, Robbie and Peggy Harrington to Logan Airport for their flight to Germany. Tom is based at Kaiserslautern and Robbie at Darmstadt. Doesn't seem as though they were home long enough.

Maude Harrington watched a moose ambling down the road by her house, Monday.

Saturday, the Bethel Greens enjoyed the final event of their baseball season. They received awards, trophies and special recognition at a picnic with their families at

Upton

— Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corres. —

A yard sale purchase of a 50 year old book revealed a clipping with these excerpts, "President of Smith College said girls arriving have lost the capacity for solitude. He urges parents to make time for children to be quiet alone.

With theaters, movies, radio and parties, parties, parties, there is no time when a child can possess its own soul. Boys and girls are caught up in a wild whirl of activity such as earlier generations never knew and could not have endured. We remember wistfully our own childhood with long hours of quiet reading, golden daydreams or simple idling. Telephones come ringing, automobile horns tooting, new films at the movie house. neighbors doing this and that, our children must not be left out. A wise parent cuts through and provides periods of solitude. The child must get to know and live at peace with himself, and discover his inner resources. He must have time for books, thoughts, wonderings, daydreams. Capacity for solitude is insurance against dullness and despair which may come when everyone seems busy or far away. Then the test—will it be loneliness or aloneness—an eagerly awaited chance to think and do many things, all by oneself? It will be tragic if we rear a generation incapable of the creative joys and contentments of solitude."

This article reminded me of the city gentleman in my father's General Store gushing about the serenity and beauty of the country. He kept remarking how lucky we were to live here and how little we appreciated it until Dad could stand it no longer and drily told him we were here year round by choice, not by ignorance of urban existence.

Many of today's country people are city people living in the countryside and children's imagination are off-shoots of what someone has planted in their minds through T.V.

The church services are now held at 2:30 instead of 2 p. m. Last Sunday the congregation was invited to a fellowship hour at Andy Aron Sr.'s home on Blueberry Hill.

Inter Stephen Weiss from the osteopathic hospital in Biddeford, and a friend from Wisconsin who is also studying medicine, spent a short vacation at Dr. Barnes' Lodge. Steve plans to eventually become more closely related with Doc in his practice at Hiram.

Due to the absence of half the members of Ladies' Aid, the regular meeting was postponed.

We have been butchering our young chickens which have had good care, plenty of feed and water and shut up from nightly predators. The care is for our benefit so they can supply us with chicken dinners.

If they were aware of this and had a choice, I wonder if they prefer the risks of the wild where they might live for years, less comfortably at times but free of that certain early fate—the axe.

Humans may choose between the risk of a life under the reign of Christ which may be hazardous and rocky but free from the certain death of sin unconfessed and unforgiven or live a perhaps more comfortable world life with trust in mankind with his knowledge and intelligence which can only result in that certain death from which there is no resurrection.

ter and shut up from nightly predators. The care is for our benefit so they can supply us with chicken dinners.

If they were aware of this and had a choice, I wonder if they prefer the risks of the wild where they might live for years, less comfortably at times but free of that certain early fate—the axe.

Humans may choose between the risk of a life under the reign of Christ which may be hazardous and rocky but free from the certain death of sin unconfessed and unforgiven or live a perhaps more comfortable world life with trust in mankind with his knowledge and intelligence which can only result in that certain death from which there is no resurrection.

Swan's Corner

Sent in by Viva Whitman:

Off and running on Monday with so much to do we hardly knew where to start, but Russell had an appointment to keep in Norway, so off we went. Met my son-in-law, Michael Woolf and granddaughter Courtney while there. Wanted to show Courtney to my old friend Lucy Parlin, but when we got to her home, we found she was in the hospital and had been for a week. I went in to see her for a few minutes, but of course didn't get the chance to show her the baby. Hope she is much better at this writing.

Tuesday was string bean day again. They get ready to be picked before we are ready for them. However we got them taken care of until next picking. We were expecting my daughter, Wynona Woolf of Lewiston and a friend, Debbie Wing to come to make zucchini relish, so when I got a few minutes, I started peeling the zucchini to have it ready for them to use. They got here about noon-time and as soon as lunch was over, we all began on the relish.

There was some zucchini left over and as we were to have a flea market the 27th, I decided to make some zucchini carrot bread to sell.

I had to go to Fryeburg in the afternoon and took along a picnic supper. After doctors appointments were over and we headed home, we decided to eat by the Fairgrounds again as we had the last time.

Russell has been waiting for the spirit to move to clean out the attic stairs and decided that Thursday was the day to do it. What we saw and found about is astonishing some times. Russell found things there that he had forgotten about. Anyway, he found a lot to put in the flea market by clearing out the attic stairs, and it looks so much better now. He had helped me stir up some home made bread before he started on the stairway.

We had dooryard callers in the evening wanting another space for the flea market. Callers were Bob, Mary, Larry and Paul Billings of Bryant Pond. Also, Tony Lacasse called to get Russell's ladders for the Outward Bound group to use Friday. More painting on the Grange Hall was to be done, Russell and Peggy went over to the Grange Hall Friday morning to show the group of young people through the Grange Hall and tell them a little about the organization. The "Outward Bound" groups are doing a good job painting the hall, and we want to thank the people who have donated money toward the project.

After lunch Friday, Peggy, Russell and I went to town for groceries and to do errands.

Got a call from our sister, Laura about 7:30 Saturday morning saying her van had died on her and she was at Newry Corner where she had put the flea market sign out. Her battery had given out on her, so we weren't quite ready, but hurried up and got over there as soon as we could to help her get her van started and then went to the hall and started setting up for the day. Others were soon there and the place was as busy as a beehive. We had a good day for the flea market.

About ten minutes of three, most of us started packing our goodies and calling it a day. Russell, Peggy and I came home and did what we had to do; then later went back to the hall for a regular Grange meeting. There were ten members present; one being a visitor from Franklin Grange of Bryant Pond.

How I hated to get up Sunday morning, but string beans wait for no one, so Russell picked them; also pulled the beets and we were busy canning. After lunch, Peggy and I worked on items for the C. W. A. at Grange while Russell puttered around outside.

Laura and Bernard Hutchins of East Andover called and picked corn. They had been to Berlin for dinner and decided to come get the corn to freeze. Russell and I have corn we have to take care of too

FROM THE BETHEL AREA HEALTH CENTER

The Bethel Area Health Center remains committed to preventive medicine and community education. Therefore, this year, in addition to our ongoing programs, the education committee, in conjunction with the S.A.D. 44 Adult Education program, has developed a monthly miniseries program which will be held on the second Thursday of the month at 7 p. m. in the Telstar Library. The subjects will vary greatly in order to offer something to everyone in the community.

The full schedule of topics will be offered elsewhere in the Citizen in the near future. However, we would like to announce that the first miniseries will be held on Oct. 13. William Whitney, M.D., pediatrician, Joan Whitworth, P.A., and several area citizens will conduct a panel discussion. The topic will be "How to get the most from your Doctor's visit." The program will be open for general discussion and a question and answer period. We hope that there will be an opportunity for exchange of opinions and ideas at this program and we are looking forward to community participation.

In the area of preventive medicine the Center offers a number of ongoing health education programs.

Prepared childbirth classes, eight weeks in length are held three times a year. Hypertension education is an ongoing program which is aimed at helping people with High Blood Pressure understand their illness and provide them with ways to help control their blood pressure through healthy living habits. A smoking cessation course will be offered both in the fall and spring of the coming year. Also included in the ongoing programs are Infant Pediatrics, a Baby-Sitting Course and Self Care for Senior Citizens. Starting dates for these programs will be announced soon.

We at the Health Center are excited and enthusiastic about both of our educational programs, ongoing and miniseries, and look forward to the coming year.

(Tri-Town Ambulance & Emergency Rescue Service)

The Bryant Pond ambulance has its new letters painted on the sides, saying Tri-Town Rescue. Many thanks to Micky Limatita of West Paris for doing an excellent job.

Ten Tri-Town members took the I. V. maintenance course at Stephens Memorial Hospital last week. This enables these attendants to transport someone with I. V. in place. It takes quite a few steps for Tri-Town to be licensed to start an I.V. at the scene. Congratulations to the members who have taken this next level of training. No longer will a nurse have to ride with a patient from one hospital to the next when the patient needs an I. V.

The auxiliary meeting is scheduled for Tuesday night, Sept. 6, at Katherine Hakala's house in Greenwood City. All meetings are open to anyone interested.

The children are excited to get back to school. West Paris started Tuesday, Woodstock and Locke Mills started on Wednesday. Please remember to stop when coming in either direction for a school bus with flashing red lights. Little children boarding and getting off the bus are some times hard to see.

FIELD HOCKEY SCRIMMAGES

The Oxford Hills Viking Field Hockey squad was held to a 2-2 tie in play with Telstar last Thursday. Chris Davis scored for the Rebels after a Housely score for the Hills. Kilgore scored again in the same period to put the Vikings ahead. Georgia Gould retaliated on a penalty stroke to even the match.

In Saturday's contest with Fryeburg Academy, Telstar put in six goals and prevented the opponent from tallying. Vicki Dyer, scored one; Penny York, two; and Georgia Gould, three. Theresa Wilbur and Dale Robbins assisted on three of the goals. Freshman—new player—Anita Kimball certainly knows the meaning of aggression. Angela Herrick, Amy Otero, Jane Head and Jodey Kimball picked up defensive assignments successfully. Jodie Seidell had three saves while Fryeburg was credited with 11 saves. Suzi Roy and Tracey Kimball shared backfield duties while Darlene Witter, Elayna Tate, and Jennifer Moran moved the ball up the field.

NEW ENGLAND TRAPPERS WEEK END

Last week end the Neil Olson family of East Bethel hosted the annual New England Trappers Week end at their home. Sixteen states and Canada were represented by those present. When it came to the fishing contest for the small fry on Sunday, Mr. Olson insisted that his daughter, Jill, six years old, give the other contestants a five minute head start, which she did. But she won just the same. She pulled out the first fish—a two inch shiner. Apparently none of the 20-inch trout reportedly in the pond were hungry. Shortly after noon on Sunday, Bob Jennings, president of South Central Chapter of Maine Trappers Association, on the left in the above picture, presented

Mr. Olson, right, with a certificate of appreciation for his work in planning this annual event.

COUNTY SHERIFF SAYS

SUMMER NEARLY OVER — GET READY FOR WINTER

Summer and the vacation season are fast drawing to a close and thousands of area summer homes and cottages will be vacated. Oxford County Sheriff Alton Howe urges these property owners to allow sufficient time to apply a few checks, to properly secure their property against weather and intrusion by animals and human beings.

The roof should be checked for leaks; the edges to make sure they are properly nailed down; the chimney for loose mortar, that would indicate it could become a victim of high winds. The chimney opening should be covered with a screen or cover, to prevent birds and rodents from getting into the cottage. These creatures can be just as destructive as human vandals.

A check of floors, wall bases, etc., should be made for holes that would provide entry to rats, mice and other members of the rodent family.

Door and window locks should be in working condition; broken window panes should be replaced. Sheriff Howe stated the crime of burglary and theft is still the Number One property crime in Oxford County; property owners should make every effort to apply preventive measures against burglary and theft.

Valuable articles that are small in size, should be taken home, placed in a bank vault or left with relatives and/or friends in the area. Firearms and liquor should always be removed from the cottage at the close of the season. To leave these items on the premises is an invitation to burglars. Wood stoves are still a prime target; grates and stove covers should be taken home. An incomplete stove is less likely to be stolen. Property left in the summer residence should be inventoried, room by room; a copy of the inventory should be left with a relative or friend in the immediate area. The items left should be marked with the owner's mark, be it his date of birth, operator's license number, etc.; it is very important that the owner be able to positively identify his property if it is stolen and recovered. Special attention should be given to antiques; antiques should be photographed in color; marked for identification with an engraving tool or with invisible ink. The owner should be sure to record where on each item he placed his mark, especially if he used an invisible ink. A set of the photographs and a copy of the inventory are usually left with the area relative, friend or caretaker. The Sheriff stressed the importance of having these items available should a burglary and theft occur. An area relative, friend or caretaker to check on the property is a good investment, the Sheriff stated. This could be done on a regular basis to provide a greater degree of protection from intruders.

The final check before locking the door should be made with care; every room checked, starting with the upstairs; windows locked, lamps and other electrical appliances turned off and disconnected from wall outlets; matches left should be placed in a metal container; heating equipment care-

North Paris

— Evelyn B. Vatcher, Corres. —
A new month is about to begin and it brings us nearer to the colder weather. The gardens are being harvested and the cans and jars will fill the shelves down cellar and the freezers are getting full of all those goodies to last us during the winter. The pickles and spices fill the air.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kalinowski mailed a check to Evelyn Vatcher as a donation to the flea market held Aug. 13 and 14. Thank you.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher went to Danvers, Mass., Monday to see Mrs. Fannie Vatcher, Joe's mother. They also called on Robert Vatcher in East Kingston, N. H., also had a few drops of rain.

Our Aug. 27 supper was well attended, but not as well as usual due to a misprint. Instead of reading North Paris, it read North Pond, and a lot of people didn't know where North Pond was. The Community Club members had a surprise 50th anniversary cake to honor Theodore and Charlotte Brett whose anniversary was in April. Also a 60th anniversary cake for Irwin and Lila Ellingwood who will observe their 60th with a party at the Community Hall on Sept. 1.

When we ordered the cakes made by Mrs. James Record we didn't know about the party. Mr. and Mrs. Brett were not present to receive their cake, so Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher took it to them. The cakes were identical, frosted white and yellow and a bouquet of yellow and orange silk flowers, clustered on one side. When the hall was rebuilt in 1923, Irwin and Lila Ellingwood held their wedding reception there. Congratulations and best wishes to the two happy couples.

Robert Anderson, Burlington, Mass., and Mike Fucarile, Woburn, Mass., were at Anderson's trailer Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kalinowski of Portland, Conn., came to their "Big Rock" farm Friday evening for two weeks. Stanley Ukelele drove the truck up Sunday and brought the dog doc. He went back home Wednesday on his motorcycle. We were glad to see them all and sincerely hope that the mountain air will be good for Laura. It has been very hot in Connecticut the past few weeks.

Callers at Lawrence's: Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card and great granddaughter, Danielle Wadsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Abbott and Jo-Anne, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Records, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher, Albert Penley, Sr., Jeffrey Coffin, Sherry Morse and children, Mrs. Gertrude Birney.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Newton, Mechanic Falls, called on the Vatchers Wednesday P. M., they were on their way to have supper with Mr. and Mrs. Marlan Abbott.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton of Paris Hill were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marlan Abbott, Saturday, so they came to the supper at the hall and brought their twins, three months old, and they sure got the attention of all. One is a boy and one is a girl, very cute.

Many mothers will be happy when the yellow buses start rolling and they will appreciate a few hours of peace and quiet.

B.E.A.R.S.

(Bethel Emergency Ambulance & Rescue Service)

The B.E.A.R.S. are dedicated to providing Bethel area citizens the best level of emergency ambulance and rescue service possible. To continue this level of sustained performance, the B.E.A.R.S. are seeking new members.

We would like to take this opportunity to tell you all about what being a member of the B.E.A.R.S. mean and what you would have to do to become a member.

As you know, many of the old members will be leaving for various reasons. Two members have gone on to school already.

The B.E.A.R.S. is a volunteer ambulance service. It has also recently become a new department of the town. We're not quitters, nor are we threatening to quit in any way BUT we do need help in order to continue the 24 hour a day coverage we now provide you. For example, it takes four people to cover a 24 hour shift. Two from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. Two more to cover from 6 p. m. to 6 a. m. For one week, it takes 28 people. We presently have 16 people taking duty. Of these 16, two are trainees and one a driver. Our goal in our membership drive is at least 28 active members.

To become an active member of the B.E.A.R.S. you would have to take an Advanced First Aid Course—C.P.R. and a session on suctioning and oxygen. This will take 17 weeks, one night a week from 7 to 10 p. m., usually on Tuesday nights. At the end of the course you will have to take a written and practical examination over the course. Then a state written and practical exam to be licensed as an Ambulance Attendant.

Being a B.E.A.R.S. member can be a rewarding experience. You're called upon to save or help in saving lives of the sick or injured. It's a good feeling to know you helped in some way in making a sick person more comfortable or saved a life. Anyone has to have the patience and willingness to do for others. You should be of sound mind and body and without a substance abuse problem. It's very rewarding to know you're out there trying to save lives instead of just watching a small number of people doing a very large job.

Sometimes it gets very hectic, but it's worth every minute you put into it. There are times when you have fun at meetings, etc. It's not all work, no play. The pay is not all work, no play. The pay is only paid for the calls you do on the ambulance. If you respond to help at the scene, but do not accompany the ambulance at the hospital you do not get paid.

You may not get a call for three or four days, but the idea you're there ready if needed gives you a feeling of satisfaction. You would not be tied to a telephone or your home. We have pagers which deliver the message to you when you have a call. You should remain within a reasonable distance of the S.A.D. 44 bus garage where the ambulance is housed.

We hope this gives you the courage to take the First Aid course and the incentive to join us. Even if you could only take a day or a night a month on duty, it would sure help us in keeping the B.E.A.R.S. active in the Bethel Area.

An Advanced First Aid Course will start in September to be held at the bus garage. Contact Adult Education at Telstar to enroll. This is a high school credit. If you have any questions, please feel free to ask any member of the B.E.A.R.S.

SHOW YOU CARE — BECOME A B.E.A.R.S.

NEWS FROM ADULT AND COMMUNITY EDUCATION

The S.A.D. 44 Adult and Community Education program will be affiliated again this year with the Central Oxford County Adult Basic Education Program, which is composed of the S.A.D. 44 and S.A.D. 17 school districts. The Adult Basic Education program allows adult literacy services to be delivered to both areas, avoiding duplication in administration. Linda Hertel will continue as supervisor of the joint program, working closely with Adult and Community Education Directors Judy Green of S.A.D. 17 and Cathy Newell of S.A.D. 44. Literacy services include individual tutoring for adults in reading, math and life-competing skills, which may be provided in the student's home, or a convenient community or school setting. All such tutoring is free and confidential. Other adults receive help with reading, writing or math skills in small group classes scheduled as part of the Adult Centers at Telstar Hills High Schools, or in locations. GED is also included as classes. There is no instruction at the schools.

The Central Oxford County Basic Education program lies on volunteer help members of Literacy the Bethel and South Several training sessions. Literacy staff are of year. Anyone who would like to join the program should contact at 824-2136 or 743-8842.

— Louise Loring, Corres. —

School has started! "Reading"—"Rit'n"—"Rithmetic"—taught to the tune of a hickory stick—She was my Queen in Calico—I was her bashful barefoot beau". The slates, the erasers, squeaking chalk—what memories it conjures up of my own school days. And, as a young married woman—how excited my own children were, to see the yellow school bus, coming up the road so early in the mornings.

Lunches, shining smiling faces—they waved goodbye to me as they boarded the bus and rode away—as each new little one left the nest, I spent the rest of the morning in tears. The hours seemed so empty, so quiet—and the toys lay atop the toy box—dolls and teddy bears, seemed to miss them too—the cats thought it strange to nap peacefully, and old Beau the dog, waited sadly at the window for their return. The days prior to this event were busy ones, and the night before, each new outfit was carefully chosen—and each child was anxious to show off his new clothes, his new dinner bucket and the new, his pencil box and notebook. I really don't believe times have changed that much, so all you mothers, relax—take a quiet break with the second cup of coffee—and enjoy—for these days will soon be over—and when you hear the school bell ring—a part of you will still thrill to the old anticipation. Good luck, teachers, parents and students, and make '83 '84 one of the years you will all remember as a year of outstanding joy and progress.

God Bless—all of you!!

LABOR DAY WEEK END MEANS HEAVY TRAFFIC

The three-day Labor Day week end means that vacations are just about over for most people in Maine, and thousands will be moving homeward, many to another state. The Maine Highway Safety Committee advises that traffic on the roads is bad enough during any holiday period, but it's worse over Labor Day. Heavy traffic causes many drivers to become irritable and out of sorts; some are tired; some have been drinking too much; and with some it's all three.

The Committee urges some advance planning which is necessary to accomplish a smooth, trouble-free trip. Give yourself plenty of time to allow for heavy traffic which can slow you down; make sure your vehicle is in top mechanical condition with tires properly inflated and the radiator adequately filled; windshield wipers, brakes, headlights and stop lights should be checked; belts and hoses secure and in good shape. Everyone should be well rested, and planning should allow for frequent stops.

Drivers must be especially alert and watchful for mistakes and poor habits of other drivers. Don't insist on having the right of way, it's not worth an accident. Be courteous and considerate, and drive defensively every minute. A drinking driver must let someone drive who's completely sober.

Everyone must use seat belts—they are the single best source of protection in the event of a crash, keeping an unprotected body from being smashed against some interior portion of the car or hurled through the windshield or a window. When your vehicle is impacted nothing else can help you, whether driver or passenger, young or old, drunk or sober.

Generally, Maine's record for holiday highway deaths is not too bad, but one is too many.

Historical Society Held 18th Annual Meeting Sept. 1

The 18th annual meeting of the Bethel Historical Society was held Thursday evening, Sept. 1, in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House. A 6:30 pot luck supper preceded the annual meeting, ably handled by the Special Projects Committee headed by Carolyn Brooks. The centerpiece and table flowers were again furnished by Barbara Henriot Brown who also has faithfully furnished flowers for the museum since it opened in 1974.

During the business meeting Treasurer Margaret Joy Tibbets reported the Society to be in good financial health and that the endowment responding to the good news of the stock market had appreciated at a steady rate since last annual meeting. All those who had made Sudbury Canada Days such a success were thanked for their efforts on the Society's behalf.

A nominating committee consisting of Helen Morton for the Trustees, and Barbara Kuzlyk and Betty Perkins for the general membership reported the following slate for 1983-84: President, Donald G. Bennett; Vice President, Alden T. Kennett; Secretary, Mary C. Keniston; Treasurer, Margaret J. Tibbets; Trustees for three years, Persis Post and Ruth Wight. The report was accepted by all members present.

Tributes were paid to retiring trustees Edith Eddy and Helen Morton. Mrs. Eddy, a former secretary of the Society, is a life member and has served the Society as a guide in the museum and as a member of the museum committee. Mrs. Morton has served as the head of the program committee.
